

MARATHON RACE WILL BE RUN THIS MORNING

During the past few days the Marathon Race Editor has had visions of being unable to have the great contest come off today on account of some disreputable cuss stealing the handsome cup which we were going to present to the winner. When the cup was first missed the police authorities were at once notified and Chief Malley has been constantly on the track of the bold bad burglars. Yesterday in M. R. E.'s office when the chief was discussing the case, he happened to take a drink of water and on carefully examining the drinking cup was horrified to discover it to be the missing prize. Some careless printer had evidently used the vessel in quenching a burning thirst.

On this account we had refused to enter any more names of those who desired to participate but now that everything has been righted the race will come off, and this evening in the Nevada Club, the cup will be presented to the winner.

One of those most persistent in entering his name was Harry Epstine. It is not known to the public that Harry is, or rather was, a foot racer, for he is rather loath in discussing this matter, but at one time his fleetness of foot saved his life. It was when he was working on the railroad as conductor of a jerkwater freight running between Truckee and Sacramento. One day after arriving in Truckee he was placed in charge of the wrecking crew, and ordered to clear away a wrecked circus train which had jumped the track in the snow sheds. On arriving on the scene Harry and the head wrecker started out to survey the situation. One of the animal cars had turned over and a big bengal tiger had escaped. Harry saw the tiger and the tiger saw Harry. The tiger started for Harry, and Harry started for home and mother. It was just eighteen miles to Truckee and in seventeen minutes Harry reached that town, making a little more than a mile a minute. A searching party went out after the animal and found its lifeless body several miles from the city. It had dropped dead from exhaustion.

When pressed real hard Harry might exhibit the medal he received from the citizens of Truckee for killing the tiger.

The race will start at 9 o'clock this morning from in front of the Mizpah hotel and the course will be out to Gold Reef, back to Tonopah and out and back again, a distance of twenty-eight miles. Those who have entered their names should be on hand at the designated time, and all are required to bring a physician's certificate as to their physical condition, for the race will be a test of endurance. The participants will be Bob Govan, Grant Crumley, Jim McQuillan, W. T. Cuddy, W. S. Johnson, Chris Malatesta and Harry Epstine.

ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE WHIST

Mrs. H. C. Brougner of Oakland entertained informally at bridge yesterday in her apartments at the Mizpah hotel, and a pleasant afternoon was passed by the following ladies: Mesdames Douglass, Parsons, Blakeslee, Martin, Brown, Morris, Prouty, Brady and Miss Oddie. Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Brougner entertained a few friends at a dinner.

C. BLUMENTHAL ENGAGES IN A REAL BULL FIGHT

EATS CHILE CON CARNE WITH ROYALTY IN SPAIN—WILL BE HOME SOON.

Charles J. Blumenthal, who is doing Europe, has reached the land of the don and a postal card received yesterday by Jim McQuillan announces that Charles will soon hit for the sage brush. This is what he says:

"Carramo! Diablo! How is that for slinging Spanish. In every country that I have visited I have made a practice of picking up the language the first thing. Have been here two days and can swear at anything in beautiful Castilian. This the land of the 'three card monte,' and will endeavor to take the natives into camp. Went to a bull fight yesterday. The head guy who killed the first bull invited me down into the ring and help him dispatch the next one. Of course I went, but didn't stay long, as the bull objected and when he started for me I started home. With the exception of losing a portion of the bosom section of my trousers I escaped unhurt. The crowd thought there must have been a joke in the matter for they all laughed. I failed to see anything laughable. No more bull fights for mine.

"Went up to see the king this morning and presented him with a letter of introduction from Chris Malatesta. He appeared to think a good deal of Chris, for just as soon as he noticed the signature on the letter he started in to cuss, but finally ended up with saying that Chris was a blamed good fellow at that. I asked the queen what the trouble was between them and she told me that Chris had sold the kink some mining stock once. He still has that stock. His nob and her noblets and myself went to the royal Spanish theater this evening and had a fine time. One of the girls on the stage looked like Celestine who used to be at the Butler. I wanted to make an engagement with her but the king butted in before I reached the stage door and I lost out.

"Will leave in a few days for the old sagebrush state. Have given up the trip up the Nile for have heard on good authority that Little Egypt is not at home.

"Yours, J. C. B."

HOME SLAUGHTERED MEATS. The Tonopah and Goldfield meat market continues to attract the trade of Tonopah by their up-to-date business methods and square dealings. One of the most attractive features of this concern is the excellent and healthful condition of their meats, which are killed and dressed here in Tonopah, thus assuring everything fresh and not a cold storage product.

FLORENCE GEAR

MARRYING MARY THRICE MARRIED THRICE DIVORCED

The make-up and costuming of the men in "Marrying Mary," the smart musical play by Edwin Milton Royle, which Florence Gear and a large singing company will present at the Pavilion theater on February 18, has been commented upon wherever it has been seen. Seldom it is that the producer has so much to draw upon in the lines of varied characters. A senator-elect from Utah, a Mormon bishop, a southern colonel, a fashionable rector from Newport, an irascible French landlord, a foppish ne'er-do-well and an earnest officer of the anti-divorce league—these are characters worth having and the astute New York manager has not been slow to make the most of them. All these men, by the way, are moths singeing their wings with the flame of one candle—the beautiful, the eccentric, the aristocratic Marrying Mary Montgomery, thrice married and thrice divorced, and looking for a possible No. 4. Neither must the maid Flurette be lost sight of, the perdest, sauciest of French women, loyalty itself to her beautiful mistress, and more than eager to assist her in any new development of nonsensical escapade. Then there is also the chorus, the dancing, singing chorus, the chorus of bridesmaids and the friends of the bride, the chorus of housemaids, and the daintily dressed guests. "Marrying Mary" seems to offer a great deal for the money.

CUSHMAN TRIAL STILL GOING ON

FREQUENT OBJECTIONS AND ARGUMENTS CAUSE DELAY IN TRIAL.

The Cushman trial is still proceeding with great slowness and there is no telling when the jury will receive the case. Yesterday was consumed by the state with James T. Davis, former general cashier of the State Bank and Trust company, on the stand. But little of importance was elicited from him on account of the frequent objection from the attorneys for the defense. The monotony of the trial was broken by the frequent tilts between the attorneys on both sides, which has been one of the attractive features of the case since its beginning. There is a bare possibility of the case being continued today.

WE HAVE THE RIGHT.

You have no doubt noted how frequently us editors use the personal pronoun "We." Well, we want to say that we have the best kind of a right to do so, as, according to an edict issued (we don't recall when or by whom) there are only three classes of people in the world entitled to use it.

They are editors, emperors and people with tape worms.

(Do you get in under any of these classes?)—The Lariat.
